

I Dual Mixtura Devices (Fretwalkers Lore)

“In a world fractured by sound, clarity is a weapon.”

I Overview

Dual Mixtura Devices are rare, twin-linked sound processors used by elite Fretwalkers. Each device contains hybrid analog-digital circuitry designed to remix, reroute, and reconcile corrupted frequencies. They allow a Fretwalker to balance opposing tones — chaos and harmony — in real time, acting like twin orbiting satellites around a sonic core.

I Purpose

- ☞ Blend opposing signals (e.g., distortion + clean, harmony + dissonance)
- ☞ Extract harmonic truths from corrupted sources
- ☞ Stabilize unstable resonance fields or tone anomalies

I Appearance

- ☞ Worn across the chest or forearms like relic gauntlets
- ☞ Exposed circuitry, glowing tone filaments, and shifting dials
- ☞ Each unit emits a soft harmonic hum when synced properly

I Used By

- ☞ Tone Scribes
- ☞ Signal Harmonic Guard operatives
- ☞ Aeon Marr during deep resonance trials
- ☞ Lex Hollan may have once forged his own variant to decode twin signals from Harmony and Serenity

I Known Modes

Mirror Loop: Repeats and inverts a signal from one hand to the other

Tone Interlace: Creates layered patterns that shift emotional weight

Resonance Split: Sends one tone outward and folds another inward for inner echo mapping

I Lore Quote

“Two hands. One signal. Echoes must choose.”
